

WANT HEAVY DAMAGES

The Suit of Joseph Ramsdell and Others
Against Hon. W. A. Clark.

SHE LIKES HER MAIDEN NAME

Mrs. Bridget Sullivan Sues for a Divorce—Other Matrimonial
Mileage—Information
Filed.

BUTTE, Dec. 10.—A suit by Joseph Ramsdell and others against W. A. Clark for $77,543 damages was up before Judge McHatton to-day on a demurrer. Ramsdell complains that he and the other parties to the action were owners of the Ramsdell-Parrott mine in 1887, and leased it to W. A. Clark under a written contract and agreement, whereby Clark was to work the property in a workmanlike manner for one year on a royalty. The mine was operated for six months and ore extracted in paying quantities, and then work was stopped and the mine remained idle the remaining six months, whereby Ramsdell lost at least $30,000. While the mine was operated copper was worth 15 cents and was at that price during the time the property was in enforced idleness, but soon thereafter dropped in price and has never since been so high. Clark is also accused of having worked the mine in a careless and unworkmanlike manner, resulting in numerous caves and other serious damage, which makes up the other part of the $77,543. The defendant, by his attorney, J. B. Welton, demurred to the action on the ground that the suit was barred by the statute of limitation, and should have been commenced within two years. John W. Cotter, for the plaintiffs, on the other hand, maintained that as the suit was brought under a written instrument between the parties, action could be commenced any time within six years. Judge McHatton took the matter under advisement.

A Triple Misalliance.

Bridget Sullivan says she finds married life anything but a bed of roses or a gliding success, and she filed a complaint in the district court this morning in an action for a dissolution of the bonds of wedlock that bind her to Patrick Sullivan. She relates that she was married to the defendant on the 8th of September, 1887, at Red Jacket, Mich., and ever since she has conducted herself as a true and faithful wife. Her maiden name, she says, was Bridget Murphy. Shortly after coming to Butte they moved to Dublin gulch, and the location and surroundings of that quiet and salubrious place had an ill effect on the husband, for he at once became quarrelsome and abusive and on several occasions threatened her with bodily injury and frequently cursed and swore at her, and in other ways sought to annoy and intimidate her. They then moved to Centerville, but the Dublin gulch influence seemed to follow them, for on the 15th of last August the defendant became violently abusive and in a fit of unprovoked rage he threw a cup containing hot tea at her, striking her on the arm and breaking the cup and scattering her clothing with the hot liquid. At the same time he threw at her two saucers, breaking them and injuring her. He also cursed and swore and raved and tore and applied vile epithets to her and since that time has threatened to kill her, so that she believes he will carry his threats into execution. He has also accused her of infidelity. The plaintiff further says her husband is of a quarrelsome disposition and in his frequent fits of rage has threatened and intimidated her by breaking and demolishing the furniture in the house, and by other acts of violence and abuse to such an extent that she was in fear of her life, by which she has been put in great distress of mind and body, so that it is impossible for her to longer live with him. She also accuses the defendant of being an habitual drunkard and with spending the money she has earned by her own hard labor. Mrs. Sullivan filed an affidavit to the effect that she is too poor to pay the costs of her suit and the county will contribute them. She asks for a divorce and to be restored to her maiden name.

The referee in the divorce case of Hannah vs. Thomas Littlejohn filed his report this morning, the ground for divorce being desertion. A decree was granted.

In the case of Howard against Frank C. Howard the default of defendant was entered and the case referred to W. J. Lippincott to take testimony.

New Information Filed.

The case against Peter J. LaChapelle for practicing medicine without license came up in Judge Pemberton's court this morning on demurrer. By an oversight the original information had not been properly signed and the county attorney dismissed the case and at once filed a new information against the defendant, to which proceedings the latter took exception. He was then required to give a new bond in the sum of $200 and was given until Tuesday morning to plead.

An information was filed against Charles A. Dowling, charging him with burglary in the second degree, committed Nov. 27, when he entered a house in day time and stole some personal property belonging to Edward Gleason. He will plead on Monday. J. R. Giese was appointed to defend the man.

An information was also filed against Blanch Medlar, charging her with grand larceny in fleeing a lamb by the name of Andrew Anderson of $70 on Nov. 18. She is out on bail and was notified to be in court Monday morning for arraignment. The appeal case of J. B. Robinson was dismissed because the bond had not been filed within the ten days allowed by law. The defense was that the justice had extended the time, but the court could not see that any court, not even a Butte justice of the peace court, had the power to legislate and extend the statutes.

The case of W. A. Clark et al. against the Golden Gate Mining company, which is before the court on a motion to set aside judgment, was ordered transferred to Department II.

The demurrer in the case of J. A. Murray against the Summit Valley railroad was overruled and the defendant granted 10 days to answer.

The case of J. H. Smith & Co. against O. Stenberg was ordered dismissed as settled.

By leave of court an amended answer was filed in the case of J. A. Murray against the Butte & Boston Mining company.

The demurrer in the case of J. R. Russell against the school trustees was set for hearing next Saturday.

The case of C. C. Haskell and others against Frank G. Lanson and C. C. Frost was ordered dismissed as settled.

J. P. Reins, J. H. Foster and Frank Bateman, owners of the Deadwood lode claim have taken an appeal from the award of the commissioners for the Montana Central right of way. The damages assessed by the commission was $1,329.

AT THE COMIQUE.

Some Great Attractions Booked for This Week.

BUTTE, Dec. 10.—The Royal Yoddo troupe of Japanese which appears at the Comique next Monday evening are said to be among the best productions of Japanese acrobatic art, and one of the finest costumed troupes that ever left that strange country. Their paraphernalia was appraised at $28,000 by the custom authorities at San Francisco. They are superb specimens of barbaric art and are gorgeous in color and embroidery. The members of the troupe, their feats of balancing light and heavy articles, jugglery, sleight of hand, top spinning, contortion and marvelous high wire slides are thrilling and exciting in the extreme. The Forepaugh aggregation are another strong and novel card. Pearl and Mamie, the two beautiful girl acrobats, are two of the most daring and "merry" girls in the profession and in their hazardous mid-air flights show not the slightest acquaintance with the word fear. In the profession they are voted peers of the great Hanton voltors.

The Three Romans will also appear in an extraordinary acrobatic act. The other members making their first appearance are Pearl Ardine, the dancing wonder; Grace Robinson, a very handsome vocalist; the European sensational dancers, the Sisters Griffith, will appear in the latest "The Serpentine dance and will display a degree of terpsichorean ability that is astonishing. The exhibition is an education of the possibilities of the sinuosity of the human system. The entertainment will be one of the strongest that has ever been given in this city, and will be both novel and attractive, and no doubt will draw packed houses.

The Hamilton.

Mrs. C. M. Leathe of Helena came to Butte last week to select a building to furnish and rent as an apartment and office building. In a very short time she decided that the Hamilton block, at the corner of West Broadway and Utah street, opposite the opera house, was the best proposition in Butte for her purpose, and being a business woman she lost no time in obtaining a lease.

Mrs. Leathe is well known to the traveling public, having been connected with several hotels and apartment buildings in different parts of Montana, the last one the Gans block of Helena, is favorably remembered by many residents of Butte. "The Hamilton" has been furnished in a style that will not fail to be appreciated by the people of this city. The second floor has been reserved for offices, the third floor are single and en suites for apartments, the windows being handsomely draped, floors carpeted with heavy Brussels and the furniture elegant. Every room is light, cheerful and is quite a contrast to the general run of furnished rooms in other localities. The finish of the entire house is in oak, it is heated by steam, has electric bells in every room, general bath rooms, free for all patrons, and all modern improvements throughout the house.

The building is filling up rapidly and those desiring elegant quarters for the winter should not fail to call and inspect "The Hamilton."

The Case Against Pettit.

BUTTE, Dec. 10.—The case against Balcan Pettit for the shooting of Gordon Sherman was concluded in Judge McMurphy's court to-day. Sherman was placed on the stand by the prosecution in rebuttal, but nothing new was developed. The plea of Attorney Campbell for the state and Baldwin for the defendant occupied most of the afternoon who reviewed exhaustively the law in regard to what constitutes self-defense. Judge McMurphy will announce his decision in the case Tuesday at 10 a. m.

FIXING UP THEIR TICKET

Walkerville Republicans Hold a Nominating Convention.

GEHRMANN FOR MAYOR

He is Placed on the Ticket Without Opposition—Burning the Ballots Causes
a Kick.

WALKERVILLE, Dec. 10.—The republican convention to place a ticket in nomination for the coming city election met at 1:30 this afternoon in Social hall. The meeting was called to order by John S. Medlin, chairman of the city central committee, who was made temporary chairman. L. J. Williams was elected temporary secretary. The following committees were appointed: On credentials, Sam Matthews, B. C. Leyson, Joseph Hoskins; on permanent organization and order of business, R. Treleven, N. T. Tregear, Ed Reimel; on resolutions, C. Magee, L. J. Williams and Henry Hocking.

The convention then took a recess of 30 minutes to allow these committees to prepare their reports. On reassembling, the committee on credentials reported the names of all the delegates elected except Martin Mitchell, against whom a protest had been entered. The committee recommended that Jim Kelly be substituted for Mr. Mitchell and the report was adopted.

The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent, which was done.

The committee on resolutions submitted a report endorsing the present city administration, and extending thanks to Mayor Hall and the retiring aldermen for the careful and judicious manner in which the city's affairs had been conducted. Adopted with applause.

Nominations for candidates for the mayoralty were then declared to be in order. James H. Hall nominated W. H. Gehrmann, referring to his sterling qualities as a man and his long allegiance to the republican party. There was no opposition and Mr. Gehrmann's nomination was made unanimous.

For police magistrate Judge Herbert and O. M. Hall were nominated. Herbert was nominated on the first ballot by a vote of 13 to 7. The judge eloquently thanked the convention for the nomination and said that he would guarantee to make it warm for his opponent no matter who he might be. The chairman expressed a hope that in return for the nomination he would "set 'em up," and the judge proceeded to do, while a recess of 15 minutes was taken in which to caucus for aldermanic and central committee nominees. It was decided that the delegates from the different wards should nominate their own aldermen and members of the central committee. During the recess considerable rag chewing was indulged in over the Mitchell case. Mr. Mitchell was a candidate for delegate from the Second ward and he was also one of the judges at the primary. There was considerable opposition to him and it was supposed that he was defeated until the result was given out when it was announced that Martin Mitchell headed the list of delegates elected with 18 votes out of 25. This occasioned considerable surprise, and greater astonishment was created when it became known that Mitchell had burned the ballots as soon as he finished counting them. It was then claimed that Mitchell had counted himself in, and in support of only this 13 or 15 men were found who had voted for Mitchell he would only have had about 12 votes instead of 18, as claimed, and the committee on credentials considered this sufficient evidence on which to rule Mitchell out. He made a loud and long kick, but it didn't have any effect. On reconvening after the 15 minutes' recess, aldermen were nominated as follows: First ward, Sam Stuart; Second ward, John Hamilton; Third ward, Joseph Broughton.

The city central committee was made up as follows: First ward, William Crowl, Ed Reimel, Sam Stuart, B. C. Leyson, James Harris, Andrew Meichler, J. Williams, John Rich, W. L. Shovill, F. W. Harrison; Second ward, J. H. Hall, N. T. Tregear, Sam Matthews, C. Magee, J. M. Kelly, C. Actis, George Cooper, W. C. Howell, G. W. Hall, J. S. Medlin; Third ward, M. C. Holland, J. S. Medlin, H. Hocking, R. Treleven, William Eva, John Curtis, John Glenville, William Dolling, John Hendy and J. E. Hoskins. The convention then adjourned.

The attention of the ladies is called to D. M. Newbro Drug company's holiday opening, Monday, December 12, 1892. A souvenir will be given to every lady present.
